

CONGRESS SIZZLES.

Congress is in No Hurry to Leave Washington.

In Spite of the Intense Heat it Lingers On.

ARMOR PLATE FRAUD.

Navy Department Scored Successes in Every Other Line.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—[Special.]—The man who knows it all has been telling us for 10 days that this sort of weather was all we needed to make the senate hurry itself and all congressmen anxious to get away. The weather has indeed beaten the record, but the senate has been slower than ever. Even in the senate chamber, with the fans going, the mercury has marked from 85 to 91 on several occasions, and in the shaded places on Pennsylvania avenue it has ranged from 96 to 99 and back for five hours. As a natural result, almost every one who could be spared has gone from the city, yet several noted invalids have returned and in a feeble way are moving among us. Jerry Springer, who distinguished himself in Berkeley Springs by gaining 19 pounds in 19 days, came into the house on the hottest day of the season but one and was received with a liberal storm of applause. On his desk his friend, Secretary Morton, had placed in honor of his return about the finest array of flowers seen in the house this season. Mr. Springer remained but an hour or so, recorded his vote in favor of the Hatch antitrust bill and returned to Berkeley for another week or two.

The invalids. General Henderson of Iowa has also reappeared in the house, but his appearance is not very promising. He has suffered much and long from the latest operation made necessary by his old wound, and a grave doubt is admitted by his friends as to whether he can regain strength here sufficient for any service this term. Major Powell, late director of the United States geological survey, is gradually recovering strength after the severe surgical operation on the stump of his left arm. Although he was under the surgeon's knife nearly three hours and lost flesh and strength rapidly for several days after the shock, he informs his friends that the operation was a success and that he is recovering as fast as could be hoped. He has suffered much of late years, but the indications now are that he will be entirely relieved. It is remarked that there is much less serious sickness among congressmen and officials than there was in the early spring.

When this week opened, the family of the secretary of the navy, the highest official circle in the city, and they will go in a day or two to New York and thence at a later date to the seaside. The vice president's family will pass the early portion of the summer at Cape May, while Mrs. Olney will go to New Hampshire, Mrs. Hoke Smith to the Shenandoah valley and Mrs. Morton, who does the social honors for her father, the secretary of agriculture, will go to their home in Nebraska for the season. Mrs. Carlisle, who has returned from a cruise on the Maple, will probably remain with her husband all summer, as the emergency of the navy will compel him to remain in or near Washington, but they expect to take many short trips to neighboring resorts. Mrs. Gresham's latest conclusion also is to remain here most of the summer, and the secretary of state taking their rest in a short trip to the coast. Secretary Sherman, with many others not of official rank, will go to Yellowstone park for a large portion of the hot weather.

Remarkable Projects. In the general breaking up caused by the wholesale discharges of employees and the transfer of many army officers to distant posts there has been one department in which all is satisfaction, and that is the navy. Although the investigation into the frauds practiced in the armor furnished by Carnegie & Co. has developed some very queer things, in every other line the navy department has scored successes of the most striking character. In the last days of the month the department has been engaged in the projects and a difference between the new and old processes of preparing plates which are almost incredible. An old plate 17 inches thick, of nickel and steel, but not hardened, was the target, and a 15 inch. Cartridge, weighing 150 pounds, 1,100 pounds was fired directly through it, and through the wooden backing. Another shot of the same size not only went through the 17 inches of nickel and steel and the backing, but through the sand butt and 500 yards into the woods beyond, where it was found almost as good as new. A Wheeler shell of the same size and dimensions was also fired through the plate. The ordnance used was the 13 inch gun of the latest improved pattern, which has been ironically christened the "Pencemaker." It is claimed that in the ordinary range of a naval battle the "Pencemaker" could drive these shells through the greatest battlefleet owned by any foreign nation. Rather an expensive amusement, too, as it is said to cost $800 for each shot.

Irrigation For Arid Lands. Despite the intense heat of the last fortnight prophecies of a speedy adjournment are not so frequent as they were. Several committees have taken on fresh activity, and there really seems to be more pressing business before the house than a month ago. The committee on irrigation of arid lands, after hesitating long, has at last consented to approve Mr. Sweet's bill, and it has been reported to the house with recommendations that it pass. It appropriates $325,000 for a survey and estimate of the cost of reservoirs and canals in all the 12 states and territories where reclamation is supposed to be possible on a large scale, the amount to be distributed among the 12. Early in the session Chairman Cooper was very much opposed to any action, and a majority went with him, but they have yielded to pressure to the extent indicated. After a long and diligent study of the subject, having heard every body who advocated the scheme and received protests from every man who opposed it, the committee on the subject of Colorado is inclined to favor the general plan for comprehensive improvements. It involves a large issue of bonds—congress may put it as low as $5,000,000 or as high as $5,000,000—and a great extension of streets, with a beginning at least of the proposed boulevard. If the plan be adopted in its present form, the first section of the boulevard will be built along the north side of the city.

Webb & Harris, druggists, Bennett's Flats.

LEAVES THE PARTY.

Bill Hackney Leaves the Republicans—says He Will Vote With Populists.

Chairman Breidenthal of the Populist state central committee today announces the receipt of three letters from Cowley county announcing the conversion of prominent Republicans.

The news was given to Chairman Breidenthal through Dr. T. J. Rude of Burden, Cowley county, who was a delegate to the last Republican state convention.

Dr. Rude with his letter enclosed two letters written by Col. W. P. Hackney one to T. L. Bond of Salina and the other to Dick Blue the Republican candidate for congressman at large. Dr. Rude said: "In the late state convention the Republican party declared for a straddle that didn't mean anything, and then to emphasize its want of candor and good faith promptly nominated Morrill and Blue, one a national banker and the other a willing tool and henchman of that influence, one for governor and the other congressman-at-large. After Morrill and Blue's nomination on that platform, which declared for the coinage of the American product I witness their haste to rush to Kansas City, Kansas, on the 16th of this month in order to declare themselves, as they then and there did, above and beyond that platform for a continuation of the Grover Cleveland gold bug idea.

"I here and now notify you, and through you your party, and all others as well, that in this campaign so far as I am concerned, I shall vote the Populist ticket from head to heel, saving and excepting my right to vote for my personal friend on the Republican ticket in this county that shall be nominated."

The letter written by Col. Bill Hackney to Dick Blue, was dated June 18, and up to Saturday Hackney had not received an answer. In this letter Col. Hackney, who was in the last Republican state convention, was one of the most prominent members of the committee on platform, called attention to the speech made by Blue at Kansas City, Kansas, in which he said the national platform on the money question suited him, said:

"As much as it would grieve me to see a confederate soldier defeat you this year, yet there are worse political mistakes than voting for ex-confederate soldiers now; and to vote for a man who was in the confederate army thirty years ago, wrong though he may have been then, who is right now on this great question is far better for the American people than to vote for a man who was right thirty years ago and wrong in the confederate army, who is wrong now and with England on this great question. And I believe that it were better for the Republican party to suffer defeat now on this money question, handicapped as it is by English and Grover Cleveland and his minions, whereby it might learn some lessons, than to leave it with now on these issues in order to strand the party in 1896, and I would rather see you beaten now than to have your voice added to that of the gang in congress who are manipulating the Republican party under the guiding hand of English domination."

The letter to Blue covers nine closely type-written pages of manuscript, and is a very good political speech. As he closed his letter, Colonel Hackney wrote: "Oh, Dick; write me that my interpretation of your speech is all wrong. Write me that if you are elected to congress you will vote for legislation which will place alive in back of the American people the crime of 1873, and subsequent legislation relative thereto was enacted into law. At least that you will do this so far as the American product is concerned and no man in Kansas will throw his hat higher or yell longer than myself for you."

Like some other people's letters it was most interesting in the postscript, which contained the following:

"P. S.—I read the mummy pamy, wish-washy, well dealing, deceitful and disgusting imbecile financial mouthings of Morrill's made at the same time. A lot of twaddle that a school boy of ten years old would have more sense than to utter. "But you without a roof to shelter you, a man as poor as any of us, with a vote on this very question if elected is quite another thing, and such nonsense will not go down any more. If you want our votes, I mean of men who think as I do, you must agree to represent us. If you refuse to represent Morrill go with them."

In the letter written to T. L. Bond of Salina, Col. Hackney covered about the same ground he did in his letter to Dick Blue, except that he urged all good Republicans to cut loose and refuse to vote for Morrill and Blue.

WHO DID IT?

Bridge Burned and Engineer and Brakeman Killed in the Recent Wreck.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., July 2.—Two miles south of New Louisville a freight on the St. Louis Southwestern road went through a high trestle, the engine, caboose and 28 cars breaking. Engineer Ferguson and Head Brakeman Richardson were killed outright and Fireman Neill fatally scalped. The trestle had been fired and burned nearly through.

GRAINS OF GOLD.

He that cannot forgive others breaks the bridge over which he must pass.

Give me old books to read, old wood to burn and old friends to work with.

If you would have the nuptial union last, let virtue be the bond that ties it fast.

The essence of knowledge is, having it, to apply it; not having it, to confess your ignorance.

All wickedness tends to destroy individuality, and declining natures assimilate as they sink.

Help somebody worse off than yourself, and you will find that you are better off than you fancied.

The two most engaging powers of an author are to make new things familiar and familiar things new.

True independence is to be found where a person contracts his desires within the limits of his fortunes.

The first main thing a man has to do in this world is to turn his possibilities into powers or to get the use of himself.

Patient endurance of misfortune will alone half conquer it, while impatient murmuring does but increase the burden which we bear.

Attention Flambau.

It is important that every member attend the meeting tonight fully equipped.

J. E. SOUTHERN, Pres.

WRECK AT CRIPPLE CREEK.

One Man Is Killed and Several Badly Injured.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., July 2.—The passenger train on the Florence & Cripple Creek bound south, left the track a short distance from here. The train jumped the track on a bridge at Anacanda, four miles from here and several cars fell into a gully. So far as known only one passenger was fatally hurt, several persons were injured. Physicians have been sent from this city.

The name of the passenger killed is W. G. Milner. His head was buried in the sand and he was smothered to death. Milner was formerly under sheriff of Lake county. His family live in Denver.

The injured are: Frank Wasson, brakeman, squeezed between two cars, may die; H. E. Tietje, Cripple Creek, hotel keeper, right arm broken and bruised; John Keating, Pueblo, face badly cut; P. Teetzer, Delavan, Wis., forehead cut; T. E. Dorr, Denver, bruised about body.

Five Killed in Maine.

GREENVILLE, Me., July 2.—The Halifax express leaving Montreal at 8 o'clock last evening on the Canadian Pacific, was wrecked at the bridge over the west outlet of a small stream near this place today. Five persons were killed and eight injured, some fatally. Following are the dead:

ENGINEER FRED LEAVITT, Naganatic, Me.

FRED Foss, Canadian Pacific station assistant, at Greenville.

WALTER STARKLEY, mail clerk, St. Johns, N. B.

R. G. HOTT, passenger, Fort Fairfield, Me.

UNKNOWN, passenger.

MADE A GREAT RUN.

The Wheelmen Who Traveled to Morrill Springs.

The largest crowd of wheelmen that ever made a "run" from this city, about seventy-five being in line, left Topeka yesterday morning about 8:40 for Morrill Springs, sixteen miles south of here. The distance was given out as fourteen miles, but a recent survey, besides several cyclists yesterday showed the distance to be very close to sixteen miles.

As early as 7:30 the crowd of cyclists began to arrive at the various bicycle headquarters and shortly after 8 o'clock proceeded to Thirteenth and Topeka avenue where several "shots" were taken at them by a couple of enterprising photographers, after which the men quickly formed in line. W. W. Webb set the pace, which was awful slow for many of the older riders, but was about right for the rest of the softer ones. About two hours and a half was occupied in going out.

A good line was kept all the way out. Whenever a man got out of line some self-appointed field marshal would give the order to "fall in."

The roads were in pretty fair condition, but rather hilly. At one hill west of Wakarusa about two-thirds of the riders had to dismount. There were only a few mishaps. One man lost control of his wheel going down a steep hill and was ditched by the roadside, but was not hurt. There were two or three punctures.

There were several wheelmen from other places at the springs and nearly a hundred took dinner at the springs hotel. Most of the wheelmen remained at the springs about three hours, and no attempt was made at forming a line returning and the wheelmen were strung out all along the road, some stopping at Wakarusa to take a bath.

There was a bicycle rally off at the springs, Dr. Bradley, of Carbonate, securing the prize. W. W. Webb had over thirty chances, but didn't hold the lucky number.

Like some other people's letters it was most interesting in the postscript, which contained the following:

"P. S.—I read the mummy pamy, wish-washy, well dealing, deceitful and disgusting imbecile financial mouthings of Morrill's made at the same time. A lot of twaddle that a school boy of ten years old would have more sense than to utter. "But you without a roof to shelter you, a man as poor as any of us, with a vote on this very question if elected is quite another thing, and such nonsense will not go down any more. If you want our votes, I mean of men who think as I do, you must agree to represent us. If you refuse to represent Morrill go with them."

In the letter written to T. L. Bond of Salina, Col. Hackney covered about the same ground he did in his letter to Dick Blue, except that he urged all good Republicans to cut loose and refuse to vote for Morrill and Blue.

Like some other people's letters it was most interesting in the postscript, which contained the following:

"P. S.—I read the mummy pamy, wish-washy, well dealing, deceitful and disgusting imbecile financial mouthings of Morrill's made at the same time. A lot of twaddle that a school boy of ten years old would have more sense than to utter. "But you without a roof to shelter you, a man as poor as any of us, with a vote on this very question if elected is quite another thing, and such nonsense will not go down any more. If you want our votes, I mean of men who think as I do, you must agree to represent us. If you refuse to represent Morrill go with them."

In the letter written to T. L. Bond of Salina, Col. Hackney covered about the same ground he did in his letter to Dick Blue, except that he urged all good Republicans to cut loose and refuse to vote for Morrill and Blue.

Like some other people's letters it was most interesting in the postscript, which contained the following:

"P. S.—I read the mummy pamy, wish-washy, well dealing, deceitful and disgusting imbecile financial mouthings of Morrill's made at the same time. A lot of twaddle that a school boy of ten years old would have more sense than to utter. "But you without a roof to shelter you, a man as poor as any of us, with a vote on this very question if elected is quite another thing, and such nonsense will not go down any more. If you want our votes, I mean of men who think as I do, you must agree to represent us. If you refuse to represent Morrill go with them."

In the letter written to T. L. Bond of Salina, Col. Hackney covered about the same ground he did in his letter to Dick Blue, except that he urged all good Republicans to cut loose and refuse to vote for Morrill and Blue.

Like some other people's letters it was most interesting in the postscript, which contained the following:

"P. S.—I read the mummy pamy, wish-washy, well dealing, deceitful and disgusting imbecile financial mouthings of Morrill's made at the same time. A lot of twaddle that a school boy of ten years old would have more sense than to utter. "But you without a roof to shelter you, a man as poor as any of us, with a vote on this very question if elected is quite another thing, and such nonsense will not go down any more. If you want our votes, I mean of men who think as I do, you must agree to represent us. If you refuse to represent Morrill go with them."

In the letter written to T. L. Bond of Salina, Col. Hackney covered about the same ground he did in his letter to Dick Blue, except that he urged all good Republicans to cut loose and refuse to vote for Morrill and Blue.

Like some other people's letters it was most interesting in the postscript, which contained the following:

"P. S.—I read the mummy pamy, wish-washy, well dealing, deceitful and disgusting imbecile financial mouthings of Morrill's made at the same time. A lot of twaddle that a school boy of ten years old would have more sense than to utter. "But you without a roof to shelter you, a man as poor as any of us, with a vote on this very question if elected is quite another thing, and such nonsense will not go down any more. If you want our votes, I mean of men who think as I do, you must agree to represent us. If you refuse to represent Morrill go with them."

In the letter written to T. L. Bond of Salina, Col. Hackney covered about the same ground he did in his letter to Dick Blue, except that he urged all good Republicans to cut loose and refuse to vote for Morrill and Blue.

Like some other people's letters it was most interesting in the postscript, which contained the following:

"P. S.—I read the mummy pamy, wish-washy, well dealing, deceitful and disgusting imbecile financial mouthings of Morrill's made at the same time. A lot of twaddle that a school boy of ten years old would have more sense than to utter. "But you without a roof to shelter you, a man as poor as any of us, with a vote on this very question if elected is quite another thing, and such nonsense will not go down any more. If you want our votes, I mean of men who think as I do, you must agree to represent us. If you refuse to represent Morrill go with them."

NEWS OF KANSAS.

An Oswego Girl's Narrow Escape from Death.

A New Trial for Newton's Breach of Promise Suit.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

The Enterprise Bank Turned Over to Stockholders.

Oswego, July 2.—The News gives the following account of a thrilling episode witnessed by a number of spectators who had assembled at the north bridge over the Neosho river here, attracted there by the high water.

Miss Grace Holmes, stenographer for the Deming Investment company, concluded to ride down to the river on her bicycle, and mounting her wheel proceeded down Commercial street. When she arrived at the top of the hill she neglected to slacken her speed, and before getting half way down had lost all control of the machine.

She kept coming down the hill at a tremendous rate of speed to the steep precipice at the side of the bridge that broke almost straight down to the edge of the muddy, rolling waters.

Miss Holmes struggled frantically to get her wheel onto the bridge and succeeded with one last effort in making it hit the end of the arch. She fell heavily on the very edge of the cliff with part of her body hanging over and the spectators were almost helpless with awe as she clung to the scant shrubbery to keep from falling into the water.

The bystanders came to their senses, however, and went to her assistance. Miss Holmes received only a few scratches and seemed to realize less than the spectators what a narrow escape from death she had had.

FOR A STRAIGHT TICKET.

Sedgwick County Democrats Are for Overmeyer for Governor.

WICHITA, July 2.—The Democrats of Sedgwick county met in convention Saturday and elected delegates to the state and congressional conventions.

The delegates to the state convention are: S. B. Amidon, M. Willis, J. T. Dorsey, T. G. Fitch, M. Sample, W. B. Brown, Fred Bentley, Colonel Huttman, G. M. Dickson, J. M. Burton, J. S. Richardson, G. J. Locke, Harry Moore and David Smyth.

No resolutions were passed and no instructions were given. It is agreed, however, that the state delegation is, with the possible exception of George M. Dickson, for Overmeyer for governor and a straight Democratic ticket.

The congressional delegation is somewhat mixed, part of it being for Jerry Simpson and a part for some good Democrat that might be found with ambition to be a congressman.

ENTERPRISE BANK OPENED.

The Stockholders Will Realize About 50 Per Cent. on Their Stock.

ENTERPRISE July 2.—The Enterprise bank was opened today and turned over to the stockholders. They have made up a sum sufficient to pay off all indebtedness and paid it over to Bank Commissioner Breidenthal. When the claims are paid, the stockholders having the bank in their hands will decide what to do with the property.

Most of the stock is held in the east and in amounts less than $5,000 to each stockholder. It is estimated that the stockholders will receive about 50 per cent of the face value of their stock.

TO BUILD A $20,000 CHURCH.

Methodist Protestants to Erect a Fine Edifice in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, July 2.—Active preparations are being made to build a new Methodist Protestant church in this city. Three lots have been obtained on Nebraska avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets, and it is proposed to begin work on a $20,000 building.

Of this amount $10,000 will be expended first in building the lower portion, which will be of stone and which will be used for worship until the building is completed. The congregation has already been presented with a $3,000 pipe organ which will be sent here from Pittsburg as soon as the new church is ready to receive it.

FARMERS WILL HELP.

Lyon County (Kans.) Alliance to Supply Food to Strikers.

EMPORIA, Kans., July 2.—Politics has entered the strike here. The Farmers' Alliance of this place has passed resolutions of sympathy with the American Railway Union and promised corn, wheat, pork, beef and other farm products to the strikers.

They also promised that similar resolutions would be passed by every other alliance in Kansas and that the alliance would stand by the strikers to the death if necessary.

HER AFFECTIONS NOT WORTH IT.

A New Trial Granted in the Newton Breach of Promise Case.

NEWTON, July 2.—The motion for a new trial in the case wherein Miss Lillian Wolfersberger was awarded $6,721 damages for disappointment and humiliation in not being married by Dr. George A. MacEirree was argued before Judge F. L. Martin.

Judge Martin decided to grant a new trial and set aside the verdict of the jury. The case will come up again at the November term of court.

Doing a Big Business in Bugs.

LAWRENCE, July 2.—The Kansas experiment station for the destruction of chinch bugs has done a big business this week. An average of 250 packages of the diseased bugs have been sent out each day in answer to requests. There are a good many bugs in Kansas this year, but no serious damage has yet been reported. They are worse in the north central part of the state. There are forty-nine sub-stations supplied by the central station; of these ten are in Missouri.

Wichitawyers Get a $10,000 Fee.

WICHITA, July 2.—The law firm of Stanley & Hume has been awarded $10,000 by the district court for legal services in the Whitaker packing house case. Large as the sum seemed to be to the Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

probationers at the bar, it did not seem so to the older members, as many of them said that the services rendered by Stanley & Hume were worth all the way from $15,000 to $20,000.

Douglas County Democrats.

The following are the delegates from Douglas county to the Democratic state convention: S. A. Riggs, E. H. F. Schneider, R. W. Sparr, T. J. Sweeney, J. C. Watts, Wm. Nace, D. H. Lewis, H. C. Carter. Alternates: J. E. Riggs, F. L. Webster, Wm. Fisher, Thos. Rayson, Chas. C. Seewit, W. H. Sears, J. W. Beard. The convention passed resolutions in favor of fusion.

Cut In Two By an Engine.

LEAVENWORTH, July 2.—Late Saturday night the Missouri Pacific switch engine while backing down the tracks ran over the body of a man lying prostrate on the track and cut it completely in two. There was nothing to reveal his identity. His horse saddled and bridled stood so near him by the track that the engine almost struck her head.

Leavenworth Democrats Uninstructed.

LEAVENWORTH, July 2.—At the Democratic county convention here it was declared the sense of the convention that David Overmeyer be chosen as candidate for governor on the state ticket. The delegates were not instructed for him however, and it was so stated and understood.

The Bloodhounds Lost.

LEAVENWORTH, July 2.—Fred Hoyt, a dark mulatto, nineteen years old, has escaped from the penitentiary. The bloodhounds were sent after him and last night they were reported lost.

Representative From Twentieth District.

FORT SCOTT, July 2.—H. J. Butler was nominated for the legislature by the Republican representative convention of the Twentieth Kansas district.

A Grand Feature.

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me."

It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

Loans on farms and city property made at low rates. Privilege of paying $100 or more. L. L. Betzer, 519 Kansas avenue, Dudley's bank.

One word describes it—"perfection." We refer to De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, cures obstinate sores, burns, skin diseases, and is a well known cure for piles. J. K. Jones.

Ice Cream.

Scott Bros. will be able to furnish all ice cream for the Fourth of July. Order by wagon or telephone 472.

Cleveland, Ohio, and Return—Tickets Sold July 8, 9, 10.

The Santa Fe has arranged to extend the time limit on their round trip tickets to Cleveland, Ohio, until September 15. See Rowley Bros. for particulars.

Let the "Eagle" Scream!!!

Everybody should attend the grand free celebration at the city park on the 4th. Don't fail to see the firing exhibition on that famous "Gatling" gun.

Ice cream social for benefit of Oakland M. E. church at residence of Mrs. James Moore, Chester avenue, one block north of church, this evening.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY.

FOR SALE—A good substantial phaeton buggy, very cheap. Call at 303 west 10th st.

WANTED—Immediately, to buy a second hand tent. E. B. Journal office.

FOR SALE—Horse, buggy and harness, $45; or will trade for cow and balance cash. 711 Madison.

Prices Cut to the Quick!

Profits out of the question until after July 4th.

8 pkgs. fire crackers..... 25
30 lbs. sugar..... 1.00
choice lemons, per box..... 3.25 choice oranges, per box..... 3.25
choice bananas, per box..... 1.00 to 1.25
Fire crackers, per bunch..... 1.25
Gives, per bottle..... 1.00
French sardines..... 1.00
Potted ham..... 5
Poultry, per quart..... 5
Good red salmon, per can..... 10
Canned brown corn, per can..... 10
8 pks. fire crackers..... 25
Chick beef, per lb..... 15
Soft crackers, per lb..... 10
Chow chow, per bottle..... 10
Mixed pickles, per bottle..... 10
Cucumber pickles, per bottle..... 10
2 cans jellies..... 25

Fourth of July Stands.

We are in a position to figure with you on all goods, Watermelons, Fire Crackers, Lemons, Oranges, Bananas, Sugar, also can furnish you Ice, Cigars, Tobacco, Chewing Gum and Candy of all kinds. Give us a chance to figure with you and we will